This paper has no pleading to make to its patrons or others. If anyone desires to patronize its columns they can call at the office and do so, and we want it distinctly understood that they do so, not in consideration of any service rendered or to be rendered the people of this section by this paper, but because they think it will benefit them.—Journal.

Business men of Reno, we are not too important to speak to you, to solicit your patronage as you solicit patronage from others; explain to you what the circulation of the GAZETTE is and where it circulates, and what we hope it may do for your business; to defer to your wishes, to please you in every way we can. Favors worth having are worth asking for. "Call at the office and do so," if you please; if you have not the time we will call at your office and represent our own business, as 200,000 business solicitors are doing throughout the United States. We want it distinctly understood that we want your support. We promise you who are so anxious to have here a paper creditable to Reno that not only the willing ones but all will be asked in their own interest and in the interest of the town to support, as they are able, their home paper. There is not in the civilized world even one prosperous journal that is independent of its friends, not one prosperous business which never solicits, but sneaks and pouts, that ever did or ever will succeed. The Reno GAZETTE is your friend and your servant; it reflects the sentiments of the community on all public questions; it is conducted not by an arrogant dictator nor by a pouting baby boy, but on sensible business principles and by men who try to exercise common business sense.

THERE are in Nevada at least ten banks; two in Virginia City, two in Carson, two in Reno, one in Winnemucca, one in Austin, one in Eureka and one in Elko. Of these but two are national banks, the one at Reno and the one at Winnemucca. The propriety of establishing national banks is a national question and was so long before President Jackson's opposition to them. Neither then nor now are the operations of national banks well understood by the masses. In some respects they are privileged; in others restricted. They buy and deposit with the U. S. Treasury Government bonds or security for the issuance of a limited amount of paper currency. National banks are limited by their charter from charging a higher rate than the legal rate of interest in the State in which they do business. It is the law that they accept only personal security, and not mortgages or real estate, when they make loans. After a loan has been made, if payment be not made when the note falls due, for the protection of the bank, mortgage security may be required. There are many other interesting features of difference between private or State banks and National banks—features of local as well as of national importance.

While our jealous rival spends his time in shamefully calling his brother Carson editor "a natural liar," "one hundred and seventy pounds of beef and ignorance," one "whose chief aim in life is to pander to his brutal tastes, reveling in the filth that oozes from his diseased and disordered brain," the GAZETTE is trying to compliment the people of Reno by building up a creditable newspaper. That the GAZETTE is sincere the arrangements making to print 40,000 copies through Fair week fully attest.

The Iowa Republicans in State Convention yesterday, declared for a free ballot and an honest count in the South; it condemns the administration of Cleveland for its shameful abuse of the Union soldiers and the despotic use of the veto power.

THE suggestion of the GAZETTE, that a meeting of Reno's business men be called that an organization may be effected to represent the excellent soils and glorious climate of Nevada to immigrants, is meeting with general favor.

CHIEF COLOROW COLLARED

Jake Sharp Secures a Stay of Proceedings.

COLLAPSE OF A BUILDING.

The Sultan Can't Tolerate Prince Ferdinand, of Bulgaria.

THE CASUALTY EPIDEMIC.

AN accident occurred on the east-bound Union Pacific express, at Sand Creek bridge, ten miles east of here, at 12 o'clock last night, resulting in the death of Engineer Masterson, and the serious wounding of two or three train men. The Union Pacific and Burlington bridges cross this creek almost parallel and within a few feet of each other. When the engineer of the Union Pacific, which leaves here about thirty minutes ahead of the Burlington, was within a few feet of the bridge he was terrified to see that a flood had washed the middle section away. The trainmen jumped into the stream. His wounds are serious. Masterson grabbed the lever and reversed the engine just as he plunged into the water, with the baggage car on top. His body was buried in the sand and is not yet recovered. The engine was completely submerged in the sand. Baggage car Engineer was badly injured by falling trunks. An old German woman living near heard cries and rushed out with a lantern and stopping the approaching express on the Burlington within a few feet of the bridge, probably saving other lives, as the bridge on this road is also in a dangerous condition.

F. M. REARDON, Brig. Gen.
LATER—To Governor Adams, Denver: Please come to Glenwood Springs immediately, even if you require a special, to meet General West and County Commissioner Gregory and Reynolds, as an emergency exists which requires your presence here at once.

Judge Potter has granted a stay of proceedings in the Sharp case. Judge Potter in his decision says: "Having been impressed with a clear conviction that during the trial the court fell into error in the admission of some of the evidence offered by the prosecution, and that for those errors the Appellate Court must grant the defendant a new trial." Burke Cochrane this afternoon stated that the case could not come up until the general term, next October. An application will at once be made to have Sharp released on bail.

ALABAMA COAL FIELDS.

RAKE OPPORTUNITIES FOR CAPITALISTS TO INVEST.

Expert W. M. Lynch, formerly of the U. S. Mint at Carson, now of the U. S. Mint at New Orleans, Gives an Opinion.

NEW ORLEANS, La., August 15th, 1887.
Messrs. Preble & Young, Real Estate Agents, Reno, Nevada:—I wrote to you to-day to call your attention to what I think is a good chance for investment, i. e., coal lands in Alabama.

As you are aware, the South is rapidly becoming prominent in the iron industry, of which the city of Birmingham is the natural center. Within the last five years it has grown from a country village into a most active and thriving manufacturing city, surrounded by coke ovens and dotted with iron and steel furnaces. The iron and COAL SEEMS INEXHAUSTIBLE. And the facility for cheaper manufacture renders the State of Alabama a formidable rival of Pennsylvania. The principal fields of coal are known as the Warrior, Coosa and Cahaba.

John B. Porter, M. E., of Cincinnati, Ohio, says in a paper on the subject of coal and iron read before the American Institution of Mining Engineers, in 1886:

"The Warrior coal field of Alabama covers 5,000 square miles, and is quite productive, giving in all places a fair coal which cokes easily and well. * * * At present it is almost the only coal used along the valley, and the Pratt mines, near Birmingham, the largest in the State, not only supplying the furnaces near by, but shipping largely for the commercial trade."

The rapid growth of Birmingham and neighboring towns in which iron furnaces have been erected causes an ever increasing demand for necessary fuel, which is coke. Consequently, a mine of good coking coal is a very valuable piece of property. Many of the furnaces are lying idle through the deficiency of supply of coke.

We have been offered about 40,000 acres of coal land in the Warrior field, the coal from which is equal in appearance to the Pratt. It is said to coke well, and is most eligibly located.

One lot of 10 to 12 thousand acres lies in Walker county, and has a frontage on Georgia Pacific Railroad of two miles. Another road has been surveyed, running through the center of the land north and south, rendering means for transportation very cheap and convenient.

As far as known, the bed of coal lies in three seams upon this tract, the first being near the surface and four feet thick, the second 14 feet below the first, and the third 41 feet below the second, both of unknown thickness—as their existence is known only by the outcrops in natural cuts or ravines. The cost of mining in this region is about 80 cents per ton, including loading aboard the cars.

I have not made any analysis or practical tests of coking this coal yet, but should you and your friends wish to purchase (after satisfactory examination) I will visit the property and examine it thoroughly and report to you.

The property is upon the market for sale at $12 50 per acre if sold in a body. Small lots in the immediate vicinity have been sold at from $20 to $150 per acre. The sale in all cases embracing only the mineral rights.

Northward of this tract, lying in Winston and Marion counties, we have another tract, in the same (Warrior) field, of 23,000 acres, same quality of coal but lying farther from Birmingham, for which $10 an acre is asked.

One acre of coal four feet thick will yield about 7,000 tons. Should you desire to purchase this land, wire or write to me and I will secure the refusal to you for sufficient length of time to enable you to examine it either personally or through some expert in whom you have confidence.

I am confident that many of our Nevada capitalists would like to invest here if they should examine the situation.

The South is young in mining enterprises, and needs the energy and capital that has developed the West, though every year witnesses its advancement through northern men and capital.

I think there is a promise future in the gold and silver of the Appalachian range, which occur in immense bodies of rather low grade, as far as known, and almost wholly unprospected intelligently. My attention has been recently called to a tin mine in Alabama which has been worked in a crude way for some years. I expect it could be obtained at reasonable figures, as it needs a somewhat expensive plant to work it economically.

Let me hear from you in relation to the above as soon as possible. Yours truly, W. M. LYNCH.

The Life Time of Alfalfa.

From the Denver Field and Farm.

We have often been asked how long will alfalfa live and produce without being re-seeded? We conclude that there is no one living who could answer the question with intelligence. It has lived on in the country from which we have obtained it through many generations of men, and nowhere in history can we find it has ever died out. We read that three hundred years ago the Jesuits from Spain sailed the south seas, and as a precaution against starvation of shipwrecked mariners, planted alfalfa on the little barren islands of the ocean and left a few pairs of goats—male and female—that they might eat this ever-living plant and re-produce their kind and possibly be the means by their flesh of saving human life.

We have knowledge of fields of this plant still flourishing near the ancient city of Pueblo that were planted in the days of Cortez, the invader. In talking on this subject with Colonel Eli M. Wood, of this city, he told me that he had seen alfalfa before the reign of Santa Anna, we learned some interesting facts about the plant and from one who has observed its growing for a half a century. Said the Colonel: "I was in Chihuahua as early as 1844, and to feed my mules purchased alfalfa cropped from a field near the city. Forty years later—in 1884—I again returned to the country, and on seeing the same field fresh with that beautiful grass plant, I inquired of the proprietor—who was the same Castilian I had purchased the hay of in the old time—if this had ever been re-seeded or the land fertilized, and was told it had not. He informed me that from his best information the field had been planted by his ancestor a hundred years prior to 1844."

In the grand valley of Taos, near the village of that name, is a small field of this plant growing that has yielded three crops per year for more than a hundred years. We were informed by the proprietor of this Taos meadow a few days since that he had cut the grass from this field for sixty years and he believed the crop of the present season was stouter than it had ever been before. Now from all these evidences, we conclude that the alfalfa is a never-dying plant.

OUR LITTLE SON WILL BE FOUR years old on the 25th inst. In May, 1885, he was attacked with a very painful breaking out of the skin. We called in a physician who treated him for about four weeks. The child received little or no good from the treatment, as he was in an aggravated form, became larger in patches, and more and more distressing. We were frequently obliged to get up in the night on his account, and he was unable to sleep. Finally, we called other physicians, until no less than six had attempted to cure him, all alike failing, and the child steadily getting worse and worse, until about the 20th of last July, when we began to give him CUTICURA. Resolvent internally, and the CUTICURA Soap externally, and by the last of August he was so much better that we gave him only one dose of the Resolvent about every second day for about ten days longer, and he has never been troubled since with the horrible malady. In all we used less than one-half of a bottle of CUTICURA Resolvent, a little less than one box of CUTICURA Soap, and only one cake of CUTICURA Soap.

THE SCHOOL FOR GIRLS.

Opening Exercises—Address by the Bishop.

The Advent term for the Reno

School for Girls began to-day.

There were 57 pupils present at the organization. The day was devoted to examining the scholars and assigning them to their several classes and familiarizing the newcomers with their surroundings and introducing them to each other.

We were unable to procure the names of the girls to-day, in consequence of the confusion attending the initiatory business, but as soon as the scholars are graded we will publish their names and classification.

The following corps of teachers has been engaged: Miss Pease,

Principal; Miss Chester, Matron;

Miss McElroy, Miss Guthrie, Miss

Wall and Miss Sless. The musical department will be under the direction of Miss Eva Qualife, with Miss

Molly as assistant.

In accordance with his usual custom, Bishop Whitaker delivered an address to the scholars. His talk consisted of wholesome advice as to their conduct in school and out of it, admonishing them what to do and what not to do, and so earnest was the Bishop's words that they made a profound impression on his hearers. A large number of parents and friends of the pupils were present.

As stated above, there are 57 girls already here, and quite a number will be added to the list before many days. The attendance will be larger this year than last. The Bishop is well pleased with the success of the school, and will have the satisfaction of knowing that during his absence the school will be conducted with the same care and attention which has always characterized its management.

The Play Last Night.

There was a good attendance at the theater last night to witness the production of "Old Lavender."

The acting of Harrigan proves that he has studied the character thoroughly, and this, compared with his natural ability, enabled him to personate, first, the aristocratic and elegant gentleman of the Owl Club, and then the degraded tippler, with equal faithfulness. Collyer, as the Rat, captured the "boys," and his fund of slang phrases will be an acquisition for our local gamins.

Wild, as Smoke, did his work well, particularly in the coffee house on the water front, and the subsequent show of darkness. Altogether the performance was creditable and gave general satisfaction. A feature of the performance is the orchestra, which is perhaps the best ever heard in Reno. The company left this morning for Salt Lake, where they will appear to-morrow night.

A Distinguished General in Town.

General O. O. Howard, in charge of the Division of the Pacific, was in Reno this morning. Judging from his appearance the General is about 65 years of age. He is of medium height. His hair and whiskers are iron gray, and his presence very agreeable, as well as commanding. He carries one armless sleeve, his right arm having been lost in the war. A GAZETTE reporter had the honor of an interview of a few moments with the distinguished soldier. The General was very chatty. He left on this morning's stage to Fort Bidwell on a tour of inspection, which when done, he will return to his home in San Francisco. His headquarters are in the Phelan building of that city.

In The Mountains.

On last Saturday a party of nine, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. Rid-gner, Mr. and Mrs. E. Ridinger, Reuben Ridinger, Lottie Neidhardt, of Reno, Miss Ida Beyer, of Spencerville, Miss Mable Sanford, of Grass Valley, and William W. Right, of Marysville, went from Webber

Lake to the "Lake of the Woods," which was reached without mishap.

The party ascended the mountain, where a beautiful view of the surrounding country is presented. After a feast of buttermilk and a delightful boat ride the excursionists returned home, much pleased with their day's outing.

District Court.

The cases of the State vs. Frank Field and Ab Sam were set for hearing this morning on the 12th of September.

C. P. Cross appeared and through his attorney, Judge Boardman, took until to-morrow at 1 o'clock to enter his plea.

Since January 1st of this year, the records show that the District Court has been in session fifty-nine days, and besides numerous motions, etc., the Court has disposed of forty-three cases.

Gather Them In.

Mr. Charles D. Hill, of the firm of Hill & Dougherty, leased the south-east corner of Virginia and Plaza streets this morning to Mr.

Thomas Oakes and Mr. J. S. Egan.

They intend opening a wholesale and retail furniture store. The land is already on the ground.

This is an addition to that section of Plaza street and when the new opera house is completed, will add largely to its appearance.

Another Brick Building.

Work on another new brick building will be commenced next week. It is to occupy the site where Nate Roff's office now is,

and the latter will be pushed out the marble yard premises. It will be a two-story structure and be of the same style of architecture as the postoffice building and the one adjoining. Wm. Thompson is the
